a time for retrospect.

By ANDREA KNIGHT

Many times people are prejudiced merely because they don't understand other people, races, religions, or cultures. Only by reaching out, and making an honest effort to understand, will there ever begin to be peace between neighbors.

This coming week, February 16-23, is going to be the forty-second observance of Brotherhood Week. Brotherhood Week is one of the programs sponsored by the NCCJ - (National Conference of Christians and Jews), a non-profit human relations organization which was founded in 1928 to combat intergroup prejudice.

Today, the work of the NCCJ is primarily "to build bridges of understanding among ethnic groups; and to bring the forces of enlightenment and education to bear upon racial and religious prejudice, and to achieve as realistically as possible the true ideal of brotherhood."

"The philosophy that we must learn to live together as brothers, or die together as fools" is not an empty admonition. In this great nation of ours, it is our uniqueness and incredible heterogeneity which when combined, have produced not only the richest country in the world, but also a democratic society that truly strives to make real the pledge of allegiance to which we all subscribe, but have yet to make a living part of the fabric of our country - that pledge of "One nation under God, indivisible, with liberty and justice for all!"

"...brotherhood - the respect for the dignity and worth of another human being - must become a part of our conscious activities, not just philosophical rhetoric or afterthought." The above quote is from Dr. David Hyatt, president of the NCCJ.

With Brotherhood Week coming up, one may begin to "put on" an attitude of tolerance and understanding, but unless this attitude continues past February 23, it becomes merely a useless facade.

Words can be beautiful, especially when they tickle your ears, but whether or not the words of our pledge of allegiance are true or not depends on the attitudes and life styles of

Parking lot perils

By DAVID NOLEN

As most of you probably know, the back parking lot is one big traffic jam at 3:30 p.m. Some students don't get home until 4 p.m. or a little after.

One offered solution to this problem was to drop the other chain at the other end of the parking lot. However, Principal John Campbell explained that if the chain was dropped, they would either have to put up a traffic light or hire a policeman to direct traffic.

"A traffic light would cost about $15,000," Mr. Han Chan, Mesquite city signal operation engineer said. To hire a policeman would cost $15 an hour.

One more possible solution was to have the security guard as a traffic director. After talking to Mr. Campbell about this idea he said, "We don't have the authority to let him direct traffic, and he puts in over 8 hours a day anyway."

Well, students we will just have to go on with our every day traffic jams, unless some ingenious students have a solution. If so, please contact the Pony Express office in C-3, and we will submit it for consideration.

College

Opportunities

By MARTY McLENDON

In the East Texas town of Kilgore you will find perhaps one of the finest small colleges Texas has to offer - Kilgore College.

The wide variety of classes offered at Kilgore is astonishing. The total classes offered numbers 442. These classes are in such fields as business, agriculture, art, athletics, photography, electronics, machines, teacher training and many, many more. At Kilgore they strive to please the student in offering them what they want.

Kilgore is also well-known in the sports field. They offer both inter-collegiate and intramural competition. They offer basketball, golf, tennis, volleyball, and badminton in intercollegiate competition where they compete as a member of the Texas Eastern Conference. Basketball, football, softball, volleyball, and badminton are offered to both men and women in intramural play. Football is also played on the intercollegiate level in the Texas Junior College Federation Conference.

There are also many other activities for the student. There are band, choir, the Kilgore Rangerettes, drama, and a number of clubs to suit the individual's interests.

You may enter Kilgore College by one of the following three methods: 1. Certificate of graduation from high school; 2. Approval by college officials of the individual; or 3. Transfer from another college of accredited standing.

If you're looking for a college that's small yet that's right at the top of things and has a warm friendly atmosphere along with the beautiful East Texas scenery, Kilgore College just may be the college for you.

Dear Editor:

In your January issue there was an opinion in favor of the dress code at North Mesquite. I would like to state my opinion. First of all, I feel like having a dress code is degrading to North Mesquite students. It's like saying we are not yet mature enough to know what is indecent. Second of all, I feel that jeans, are in many cases more decent than short dresses.

Concerning the hair code, during the time our Board of Directors were in school, short hair was the style, but now, longer hair is the style.

You were right to say we have a reputation for being well groomed. What you forgot was the fact that we are forced to be well groomed.

L.M.

The School Board set the grooming policies of the school district because of its philosophy of involvement in the total educational process of the student, including appropriate dress that would be acceptable in one's future occupation.

It's not a question of what is indecent, but what's appropriate.

Dear Editor,

I really enjoyed reading the article on Motocross. It was a very welcome change, and I'm sure it was appreciated by everyone.

I had to quit racing because of a recent knee injury, but I should be starting again soon, and since motocross is catching on so well, why not form a North Mesquite Racing Team? Since we have so many people here who do race, it would be fun to race the other area schools. R.L. Turner and Denton have teams, so why don't we beat them at racing, as well as football, baseball, etc.

By the way, it's spelled motocross, without the "r".

Mike Pennington

To Mike Pennington,

Thank you for your letter. I'm glad to know someone liked the article. The "r" in motocross was a mistake made by the editor. The editor thought there was a "r" in Motocross and thinking I had made a mistake put an "r" in the word. I did ask about a club and anyone interested can contact me, June Blankenship through Mrs. Hooper in C-3.

Bob Haddox

In response to your remark about Miss Knight telling everyone "to bake a cake for Jesus". That statement, if you will go back and examine it carefully, could mean one of two things. First it could be interpreted literally as baking a cake and giving it to Jesus himself. But, at the same time, it could mean baking a cake and sharing it with or giving it to someone in the name of Jesus, or as Andrea put it "for Jesus".

Michael Lewis

Dear Editor,

In regards to article "Motocross Popular at North Mesquite," the information for your article is incorrect. For example, motocross doesn't consist of small hills. The track has to have very large and hazardous hills for any competition at all.

Out of the seven people you named only 4 can qualify as competitive racers. Your sources of information on this article are not completely true.

Sincerely Yours,
Yamaha Hart

Yamaha:

If you would like, I'll take you to some tracks or courses with small hills, such as Rabbit Run, just to prove there are tracks with hazardous hills, but that's not what makes a track competitive, people do.

And yes, anyone can enter a motocross race that has a dirt bike (legally stripped for track) and has ambition to race.

Out of the seven people mentioned, seven ride and have raced.

Thank you for your interest in the article.

June Blankenship

Dear Editor:

I am writing in protest to the letter about the dress code in the last edition of this newspaper. I feel that if a person wants long hair, it's his choice and no one else's.

Remember this is America, "land of the free".

Americans have the reputation of standing up for what they believe in, not sitting around and absorbing it like an amoeba.

Are you going to tell me the length of my hair interferes with my study habits? I don't think it does, and besides we're here to learn - not to win a Beautiful Person award.

T.D.

You do have the freedom to wear your hair as you like, but it will COST you your education. Is it worth it?

Any letters to the editor should be as brief and to the point as possible. You may submit them at C-3 during third, fourth and fifth periods. Letters will be censored and condensed if necessary.
--Editorial Editor

To the Editor,

In my opinion marijuana is not harmful, it does not change your way of thinking, and most of all it is not something to be looked down upon. If you have not tried marijuana then you are judging by someone else's word, is that fair?

Students who do smoke marijuana do it not because they are "bad" but because they like it.

Don't put us down for our opinion, and we won't put you down for yours.
L.M.

The two following letters are very real. Names have been left out for obvious reasons. But names are not the important topic in these letters; their message is what counts.

These were written by a 17-year old who is presently undergoing psychiatric treatment.

Dear

I will probably move to another hospital soon. My psychiatrist says I might stay there a year or two. There is not much I can say about my condition, because there is nothing new to report. I've met many patients here who were on drugs and attempted suicide. Did you find out yet about my using drugs? I was on them for about a month before my suicidal attempt. I have found out that my life is bright, and I have many things to do in life. I don't feel that I want to die anymore.

Your good friend
Love ya,

P.S. Drugs are not a way to base your life on. I found this out over here. Please, if you hear or suspect that anyone is doing dope, talk to them and discourage its usage. It ruined the best part of my life. (Anyhow I let it ruin the best part of my life.)

Dear

You may print my letters to you. I have nothing I need to hide, I firmly believe the needle and the spoon turned my world upside-down. It sure ain't worth it! Please pass the word.

I am now beginning to lead a good life. I am getting psychiatric help from my doctors, and I will get even better!

Love ya,

Artist's conception of the completed West Mesquite High School.

West Mesquite High School underway

By DAWN WHITNEY

Construction on West Mesquite High School will soon begin, announced Dr. Ralph Poteet, superintendent of Mesquite Schools. The school will be built on an area of land west of the Mesquite rodeo grounds and near Seabourn Elementary School.

The school building will be completed in different stages, with the first one finished in 1976. Seventh, eighth and ninth grades will be the first students to attend the school, but it will eventually be a four-year school with a capacity of 2,500 students, Dr. Poteet explained.

West Mesquite will be similar in size to North Mesquite and Mesquite High Schools, but will have many additional facilities. One of these is a planetarium to be used by all schools in the Mesquite district. It will also have an indoor swimming pool, and swimming classes will be offered at all three high schools.

An elevator will be provided for handicapped students, and there will be six stairwells leading to the second floor of the school. Also, large areas of the school will be carpeted to cut down on noise.

In addition to an auditorium with a capacity of about 1,500 students, the school will have a separate little theater for departmental use. A large coliseum will also be built to be used for graduation exercises and other functions of the school district.

Also planned for construction is Mesquite Memorial Stadium, to be used by all Mesquite high schools and have a capacity of 20,000.

The final stages of the school should be completed in 1978, Dr. Poteet added.

Choir sings at hotel

The A Cappella Choir sang at the Texas Music Educators Association Convention February 13 at the Adolphus Hotel in Dallas.

Music directors from all over Texas were there to participate in the convention.

Vocational school available

This year's sophomores or juniors who are interested in enrolling in vocational school for next year must apply to Mr. Bill Scott, junior counselor, in the counseling center before registration.

The area vocational school is located across the street from Mesquite High School. Courses include two year's instruction in auto paint and body, auto mechanics, machine shop, building trades, electronics, drafting trades, and cosmetology.

Students enrolled in the vocational program will attend North Mesquite for three hours and vocational school for three hours each day. If needed, transportation can be provided between North Mesquite and vocational school.

Industrial building planned for NM

The long-awaited industrial building is tentatively being planned for North Mesquite, Principal John Campbell announced.

Skills such as metal working, power mechanics, woodworking, machine woodworking, plastics, and drafting will be taught in the building to be completed in 1976. The proposal was adopted at the February 10 meeting of the school board.

Long-range plans also include a vocational building similar to that of Mesquite High School. This would enable students to learn auto mechanics, auto paint and body, machine shop, building, drafting, and electric trades on campus, Mr. Campbell explained.

Calendar

February 17 - school holiday

February 25 - cheerleader tryouts

February 28 - senior class portrait to be made

March 1 - ROTC Military Ball

Speech, Drama members rank high

Out of 28 schools, the North Mesquite speech and drama department placed third in the DeSoto Invitational Tournament on January 24 and 25.

Finalists were Tommy McNeely, second and Paula Mackey and Gary Carter, third in Dramatic Interpretation; Glenn Anderson, third in Oratory; and Cindi Jamison, first in Extemp.

In Duet Acting, Tommy McNeely and Karen Pirkle placed first, and Gary Carter and Cheryl Campbell placed third.

Latin Club earns ribbons

Six first place ribbons were earned by the Latin Club from regional competition February 1 at Highland Park.

Placing in Division IV were Bob Haddox, first place in vocabulary and Roman History; and Alan Peyton, first in Roman Life.

Those who placed in Division III were Cathy Tidwell, first place Literature, and Laura Wohlslager who was elected Area Chairperson and took a first place ribbon in Roman History and a second place ribbon in Roman Life.

In Division I Cindy Benavides took third place in derivatives and Trent Wohlslager brought home a first place ribbon in derathlon, which is a combination of such things as vocabulary, derivatives, and grammar.

In other competition Paula Hasley took first place in girls dramatic interpretation, while Belinda Turner brought home a second place in girls costume.

The group will journey next to the state meet in April.

Student picked for All-State Orchestra

By KAY HUNDLEY

All-State Youth Orchestra is perhaps the ultimate goal of many high school orchestra students. Charla Davis, freshman, was recently honored in December by being chosen a member of this orchestra for the '74-'75 school year.

Aside from orchestra, Charla is involved in many other school activities. She is a member of the freshman band, a majorette, and in the NMHS Chamber Singers. She is also a member of the National Junior Honor Society and Greater Dallas Youth Orchestra.

In competition this year Charla was chosen to play with the All-Region Symphonic Orchestra.

Charla believes her honors will give her a great opportunity to work and perform with young people from all over the state.

Carnival-like comedy upcoming

"Slap-stick comedy and acrobatics" play a prominent role in the drama department's next production, said Mr. Mike Wolfe, drama teacher.

The one act play, entitled "A Company of Wayward Saints" is "the story of nine traveling actors who go from town to town putting on plays in an attempt to make enough money to get back home," explained Mr. Wolfe.

All-school tryouts for the play were held during the first part of January, with around 70 students competing for parts in the play. One of the skills the students were judged on was their juggling ability, which all of them failed miserably," said Mr. Wolfe. Those who were chosen to portray the nine actors are Karen Pirkle, Candi Duke, Paula Mackey, Scott Bardin, Gary Carter, Norris Harrington, Brian Rush, John Marshall and Carl Storz. Anna Janecka is the assistant director and understudy for the girls' parts and Mike Yancy is the understudy for the boys' parts. They rehearse everyday after school for two hours and will rehearse longer as the night of the production draws nearer.

Scenery, lighting, and costumes will be provided by each of Mr. Wolfe's drama classes.

The play will be judged in the UIL drama contest on March 21 and 22 and will also be presented to the general public one evening. Another showing will be given to the Mesquite Women's Association in mid-March.

Valentine story

By DAWN WHITNEY

"How about this one?"

"You're the only one for me. Yes, that's fine. I'll take a dozen of them."

"Susan, you're buying a dozen Valentine cards?"

"Well, it's always good to be prepared, just in case..."

"Oh yea, sure. By the way, who's taking you to the Valentine Dance tonight?"

"I haven't decided."

"How many boys have asked you to it?"

"Well, to tell you the truth, none - but I know at least six or seven who are about to. Who are you going to go with?"

"Oh, a new guy. I don't think you know him. He's really nice, and smart, too. He's very considerate and..."

"What's his name?"

"Uh... Derwood."

"Derwood? You can't mean Derwood Dog! Oh Jane, surely you're kidding?"

"What's wrong with Derwood? I think he's nice."

"He's ugly."

"He's sweet."

"He's dumb."

"Well, he's good enough for me."

"I'll probably end up going with Paul Personality or Allen Athlete. As a matter of fact, one of them is probably calling me right now. I've got to go. I'll see you at the dance tonight, bye!"

"Bye." Boy, Susan really has it made. All those guys wanting to take her to the dance. And speaking of the dance, I'd better start getting ready for when Derwood picks me up...

There's the phone, I wonder who it could be? Derwood should be here in a few minutes.

"Hello?"

"Hi Jane. This is Susan..... say, do you think that Derwood has a brother for me?"

Co-op programs begin registration

By ALICE ADAMS

Cooperative programs play an important role in the education of North Mesquite students. There are six of these programs in operation within the Mesquite School District.

Enrollment for these courses starts February 17. Approximately 30 students are chosen for each of these programs by the sponsor of that course. Students must be 16 years of age and should have transportation. Except for CVAE and VOE, students must also be junior or seniors.

"Students are selected on the basis of attendance, since we feel this shows maturity and dependability," says Mr. Norman McLaren, ICT co-ordinator. "A person needs both these qualities to hold down a steady job."

Under the present system, two credits per year are received for the completion of each course. Next year, courses will be worth six or nine quarter credits.

The six cooperative programs are ICT, CVAE, DE, Agricultural Business, VOE, and HECE. The programs consists of classroom instruction and on-the-job training for 15 hours a week.

Industrial Cooperative Training prepares a student for useful employment in a trade or skilled occupation of his choice. Two years of vocational industrial training is made possible by cooperation between local schools, industrial, commercial and professional enterprises. Mr. McLaren is supervisor of this program. Example of Jobs include automobile mechanics, carpentry, printing, TV repairmen, sheet metal worker, and refrigeration and air-conditioning operations.

Coordinated Vocational Academic Education is a vocational program designed for students with special learning needs.

Most students selected are freshmen or sophomores. They receive at least 15 hours a week on-the-job training in the occupation of their choice. At the same time students are acquiring basic knowledge in the fields of math, science, English and social studies. This enables a person to reach their maximum employment potential in the shortest possible time. Supervisor of this program is Mr. Wesley Wyatt.

Distributive Education is a training program for persons who have the desire and aptitude to prepare for careers in the fields of marketing and distribution. Training takes place in the classroom and in on-the-job situations. The student is a paid, part-time employee and is supervised by a training sponsor. Mr. Ray Wilson and Mr. Mike Allen are coordinators of this program.

Agricultural Business prepares a student for employment in approved off-farm agricultural occupations of their choice. Jobs offered include working in fields such as nursery workers, garden center employees, feed sales and servicemen, agricultural machinery partsman, assistant groundskeeper and forestry work. (Mainly working in lumberyards.) Mr. Gordon Bench coordinates this program.

Vocational Office Education is designed for seniors interested in office occupations. Requirements are having a B average in Typing I and regular school attendance.

Three major categories of employment available are Stenographic-Secretarial, Bookkeeping-Clerical, and the General Office Clerical groups. Mrs. Jill Sloan coordinates V.O.E.

Home Economics Cooperative Education provides training for students interested in employment in occupations requiring home economics knowledge and skills. Approved occupations include Child Care Aide, Clothing Assistant, Fabric Coordinator and food caterer. As in the other programs a student receives five hours a week of classroom instruction and fifteen hours of on-the-job training.

Mr. Gordon Bench

Mrs. Jill Sloan

Mr. Norman McLaren

Mr. Wesley Wyatt

Mrs. Maggie Birdsong

Mr. Mike Allen

Students who are interested in acquiring basic job skills and earning money at the same time should contact one of these coordinators. Their office is located between A-10 and A-11. Registration starts soon!

New health program considered

Being considered by the administration is a new cooperative program called Health Occupations Cooperative Training (HOCT), announced Mr. Norman McLaren, ICT co-ordinator.

Combining with hospitals, health agencies and other health-related employers the public schools provide for students a program of instruction and on-the-job training.

Eligibility requirements are that a student be 16 years of age, of junior or senior classification and have an interest in and a vocational need for such training. Pre-requisites are one credit in general science and either one credit or concurrent enrollment in biology. To be a nurse's aide or orderly a student must also be of senior classification.

An example of jobs available in this area are dental assistant, doctor's office assistant, nurse's aide, orderly, pharmacist's assistant, optician's assistant, medical records assistant, and many others.

If enough student interest is shown, this program will probably become a part of North Mesquite's co-op programs. All who are interested should contact Mr. McLaren. Approval of the course will take place soon - and student concern is a very important deciding factor.

Review

By SUSAN JORDAN

Probably one of the funniest movies ever made, "Freebie and the Bean" starring James Caan as Freebie and Alan Arkin as Bean, is a Warner Brothers' release. It's an outrageous action comedy about two tough policemen trying to scrape up enough evidence to convict a very important man.

The conflict intensifies when they found out that there is a "contract" out on their suspect. In order to protect their investment, they must guard him and keep him alive.

In trying to do so, they smash at least 50 cars, about 2 or 3 trucks, and the side of an apartment building, to name a few antics.

The movie has been held over for about three weeks at many area theaters. It is sure to be or already is a box-office smash. It has been said that people of all ages enjoy this movie. It has no really bad sex scenes, even though it does have quite a bit of violence in it.

Freebie and the Bean are best of friends. They fight and bicker and, at times, almost kill each other, but remember "Above all . . . it's a love story."

Seeing the film title "The Front Page" with the names of Jack Lemmon, Walter Matthau, and Carol Burnett together, make you think it's one that only Mom and Dad could enjoy. Right?

Not so with this one, "The Front Page" is a funny entertaining movie that anyone with a sense of humor can enjoy.

Lemmon and Matthau have proved themselves to be a winning combination in their previous efforts in "The Odd Couple," and Carol Burnett isn't exactly a loser herself.

Miss Burnett said she is tired of being stereotyped as a comedian, and she proves she can be a dramatic actress in "The Front Page." She won't win any awards, but her performance isn't all that bad.

Lemmon plays the part of Hildy, a talented 1929 newsman, working for the Chicago Examiner where Matthau is Walter Burns, his hard driving editor who will do anything to get an exclusive.

Carol Burnett, as hard as it seems to imagine, plays the part of a Chicago street walker, red dress and all. She is in love with the villain of the story, Earl Williams played by Austin Pendleton. Williams is a cop killer, who looks like he couldn't kill anything even if he wanted to. He is waiting to be hung.

Arrested for conspiring to obstruct justice and harboring a criminal, a gloomy Walter Burns and Hildy Johnson peer out of their jail cell.

Overall "The Front Page" is an entertaining movie with a decent enough plot and good enough actors. You won't get bored watching it. It ranks right up there with "The Sting", set in the 1920's, and it even has a surprise ending.

Up and coming

Looking for a place to take your Valentine tonight? You have your choice of Boz Scaggs at the State Fair Music Hall at 8 p.m. (black tie optional); or, the St. Valentine Multi-Media Moog Concert at McFarlin Auditorium.

The next two days should bring joy into the hearts of local ropers. Tomorrow night, you can catch Commander Cody and His Lost Planet Airmen, plus Asleep at the Wheel, at 8:30 p.m. in McFarlin. On February 16, Rusty Weir and Steve Fromholz will appear at the Birdville Coliseum (about 3 miles west of Cowtown).

In the second annual Buddy Texas Music Awards reader poll, Jerry Jeff Walker ("Up Against The Wall Redneck Mother," etc.) beat Z.Z. Top (of "La Grange" fame) by 1 percent of the total vote. For the second year in a row, Willie Nelson came in first place in country, and Freddie King won the trophy in the blues category.

Jazz lovers will soon be blessed with Chuck Mangione at Mother Blue's (4015 Lemmon). The composer of "Hill Where The Lord Hides" will perform February 17-19. The cover charge is $2.

By popular demand, Led Zeppelin has added another show to their already announced appearances in Dallas and Fort Worth. They will play in Memorial Auditorium, 8 p.m., March 4 and 5. If you hurry, you may still be able to get some tickets at Up Your Alley (Big Town). Top price is $8.75. More about their Dallas show next issue.

Reviews-

By RICHARD PRADARITS

Currently playing at the Windmill Dinner Theatre is the Norman Barash and Carroll Moore comedy production of "Send Me No Flowers." Larry Linville who appears each week on the popular television series "M*A*S*H" will be starring in the play until the play ends February 29.

"Send Me No Flowers" is a light hearted comedy that deals with a married couple who have been happy for 15 years except for the husband being, not a health fanatic, but a hypochondriac.

Larry Linville plays the husband whose hobby is being alarmed over every random little ache, and of constantly consulting his doctor and his shelf of medical books with no more serious results than making his wife a bit impatient now and then. Until one day he overhears his doctor discussing a case of another patients' whose days are indeed numbered and thinks the doctor is talking about him.

This is when Linville displays his theatrical talent, sneezing and wheezing his way through the dialogue in true hypochondriacal manner, supposedly to his grave. Linville portrays his character in the play much as he portrays Major Frank Burns in M*A*S*H employing a naive but earnest attitude in his every day affairs and sickness.

"Send Me No Flowers" will play nightly except Monday, with matinees on Sunday. For reservations call the Windmill Theatre: 239-9104.

Peril On The Pecos

By BRIAN DHORITY

Since 1926 Donald O'Connor has delighted audiences from the Ringling Brothers Circus to the Sahara Hotel in Las Vegas.

His performance in the western comedy "Peril On The Pecos" spotlights his unique singing and dancing ability. Appearing as Philadelphia Phoster, the villain, he entertained the audience with such comments as "I haven't been through anything like this since Texas O.U. night," or "The last time I saw Abilene Annie was when we got run out of Le Grange together."

Abilene Annie is played by Suzie Humphreys, co-host of News 8 Ect. Claire Brooks and Jane Perry star as Southern Belles who fall into Philadelphia's evil clutches along with the beautiful Indian Princess, played by Nancy Lydick.

The hero is Tex, a pony express rider. He remarks to his partner, Oklahoma,

"The best thing a pony express rider can do is to give up smoking, drinking, and women." "Well Tex," Oklahoma replied, "What's the second best thing?"

If you want to know the answer see "Peril On The Pecos" at the Crystal Palace Theater.

Now Presenting The Academy Awards

By JOEY ROBISON

In the middle part of February, The Academy of Motion Picture Arts and Sciences will tabulate and announce the nominees for Best Picture, Actor, Actress, Supporting Actor and Actress, etc. There have been many viewpoints as to which movie will "take it all" as they say it.

Will the early opener "Chinatown" make a clean sweep of the golden guys? Many authorities in the field have a strong feeling about nominations of the stars, Jack Nicholson and Faye Dunaway, as best actor and actress, along with John Huston as best supporting actor.

Another motion picture strong in the running is "The Towering Inferno." The special effects and plot may give this movie an advantage. Many motion pictures with an all-star cast have made it big, such as "Around the World in 80 Days," "Ben Hur," "Patton," and "The Sting." "Towering Inferno" has all three ingredients of past successes; therefore, it has another advantage.

Also, the truly funny Mel Brooks comedy "Young Frankenstein" may be a good contender. Although "The Great Gatsby" was a flop, Bruce Dern was given critical raves for his portrayal of Tom Buchanan. Maybe this part will give him an Academy nomination for Best Supporting Actor.

Lauren Bacall's role in "Murder on the Orient Express" - as well as Dustin Hoffman's portrayal of Lenny Bruce in "Lenny" are two other possible nominations in this category.

Nineteen hundred seventy four may go down as the year of the great movie. With movies such as "Earthquake," "Airport '75," "Godfather Part II," & "Blazing Saddles," the Academy may have a difficult time nominating just one.

My views on which movies should be nominated are as follows:

Best Picture

1. Chinatown
2. The Towering Inferno
3. Lenny
4. The Godfather Part II
5. Young Frankenstein

Best Actor

1. Jack Nicholson-Chinatown
2. Al Pacino-The Godfather Part II
3. Richard Dreyfuss-The Apprenticeship of Duddy Kravitz
4. Dustin Hoffman-Lenny
5. Peter Boyle-Young Frankenstein

Best Actress

1. Faye Dunaway-Chinatown
2. Karen Black-Airport '75
3. Lauren Bacall-Murder on the Orient Express
4. Gena Rowlands-Woman Under the Influence
5. Diane Keaton-The Godfather Part II

Best Supporting Actor

1. John Huston-Chinatown
2. Bruce Dern-The Great Gatsby
3. Marty Feldman-Young Frankenstein
4. Robert DeNiro-The Godfather Part II
5. Fred Astaire-The Towering Inferno

Best Supporting Actress

1. Madeline Kahn-Young Frankenstein
2. Karen Black-The Great Gatsby
3. Gloria Swanson-Airport '75
4. Ava Gardner-The Towering Inferno
5. Valerie Perrine-Lenny

Soccer starts

By JESSIE WHITE

North Mesquite's soccer club opened their season as they took on the Richardson Eagles February 7.

The soccer team is called the North Mesquite Stallions because it is made up of people from the school, not because it is officially sponsored by the school district. Area coaches have picked this year's team as one of the top teams.

Last year the team's record was 0-9-2, but they played teams that had been together for a couple of years or more. This year the team has practiced since summer through February getting ready for the season to begin.

Asked his opinion, soccer player Jose Cangas said, "I think we can have a good team if everyone will play as a team."

Heading Coach Pete Garza's ball club is Richard Simpson, Keith Cheek, Jose Cangas, Lee Saint, Jeff Singleton, Bobby Howard, Terry Kirkpatrick, David Singleton and Brian Caldwell.

Barbara Long, senior, is captain of the girls track. This is Barbara's second year to run track. The main events she will be participating in are sprints and long jump.

Her goal this year is to letter in track. Other sports she enjoys are softball, volleyball, and basketball. She plays right field on a softball team called the Bandits.

Barbara's previous honors include receiving Physical Education Award her sophomore year, being a member of the Honor Society, and playing on the Women's All-Star team last year.

Freshmen competition fierce

By SHARON CRABTREE

In the game between the Blue and White Freshman Basketball teams, Blue overcame the White 42-35 February 3. Both freshman teams struggled as the lead tossed from team to team. First quarter scores were 8-10 as the White led. At the half, the White still remained ahead 19-12.

The last few seconds of the third quarter the Blue team took a shot which gave them the edge 28-26.

However, in the final quarter the Blue took over the game with a final score of 42-35.

Mark Brunet was high scorer for the Blue team with 6 points, while Britt Moore was high scorer for the White.

Two days later, in the Plano Tournament February 1, Blue came out third and White placed fourth in competition with eight schools.

Blue played Mesquite and lost 64-55. High scorers were Byron McCoy with 12 points and Scott Shaver with 14 points.

When Blue played Plano Haggard, they won 66-37. High scorers were McCoy, 12; Halbert, 11; and Aube, 11.

Stallions continue to win.

Continuing their winning season, the Stallion Varsity Basketball Team defeated the South Garland Colonels 54-47 February 7 at the North Mesquite gym.

Coach Ron Powell's Roundballers held the lead throughout the game and increased their district record to 10-3 and overall record to 21-7.

Leading the scoring for the Stallions was senior Van Ogden with 20 points and seniors Mike Nelson and David Crumpton had 10 points apiece.

The Stallions, at this time, still have a chance at the district championship as they are in second place.

After two straight losses, the North Mesquite J.V. downed the South Garland J.V. 41-36 in the North Mesquite gym February 7.

Coach Larry Brooks' J.V. lead the entire game and held off a third quarter rally by the Colonels to increase their district record to 9-4.

Leading the scoring for the Stallions were sophomores Steve Roushey and Jay Morris with 10 points each and followed by sophomore Chris Campbell with 8 points.

The score was tied at the half, but Stallion freshman power over came the opponents in the last half.

Playing each other in the Plano tournament, Blue beat White 66-61. They had to go into overtime to break a 57-57 tie.

Halbert, 16; Aube, 14; and McCoy, 12 points were high scorers for the Blue. For the White were Coffman 18 and Ballard 17 points.

In the same tournament Bowan toppled White 54-44. With 11 points Mark Scudder as high scorer.

When the two White teams battled, North Mesquite took Mesquite 62-44.

Girls track off to running start

Beginning their season a bit early the girls track team tested their powers at North Garland and ran away with a first or second place rating in each event.

In the 440 relay Kayla Beard, Kathy Hearn, Cinda Baer, and Stelina Roberts placed second as teammates Karen Trower, Sandi Izzarelli, Barbara Long and Mary Garner took third.

In the 440 dash Pam Burkhalter and Susan Ryan took first and second places. Stefani Roberts took first in the 220 dash. Placing second in the 60-Yard dash was Mary Garner.

Pam Burkhalter placed first in the 80 hurdles. In the 880 the team took first and second place.

First Team was Betty Johnson, Sandi Izzarelli, Gale McClinton, and Pam Burkhalter. Second place team was Stefani Roberts, Cathie Holman, Nancy McCarley, and Mary Garner.

Cowboy choices

By JESSIE WHITE

By virtue of a coin's toss the Dallas Cowboys chose Maryland's Defensive End Randy White as their number 1 draft choice January 28. The Cowboys gained the number 1 privilege from the New York Giants when they traded Craig Morton to them.

Dallas had chances of drafting Quarterback Steve Bratkowski from the University of California, but Baltimore beat Dallas in the coin flip to see who had the rights for first pick. (Baltimore and New York Giants tied for the record in football.)

Other draft picks of the Cowboys went as follows: 1. Randy White, defensive end, Maryland; 1a. Tom Britt Moore with 13 points, David Ballard with 12, Mark Scudder with 12, and Richard Coffman with 11 points were high scorers of this game.

Traveling to Wilmer-Hutchins the freshman basketball team stood (looked) up to tall competition as both Wilmer-Hutchins teams defeated the Stallions.

Blue lost to Wilmer-Hutchins 93-61, and Wilmer-Hutchins defeated White, 87-63.

High scorers of the games were No. 15 Brian Aube with 20 points for the Blue, No. 43 Richard Coffman gave the White team 20 points.

In the 100-Yard Dash Sandi Izzarelli took second. In the 880 run Cathie Holman took first, and in field events they took three first places and one second place. Debbie Dixon placed first in shot put and second in discus. Pam Burkhalter placed first in the long jump and in the high jump.
